

Get Plugged In

Get Plugged In

You can't be an island—you've got to get connected with other people. Your success and happiness in life are almost completely dependent on your ability to create and maintain relationships.

Getting plugged in to the people who can help you reach your goals is only the first step—after that, you need to think about people you can help when they get plugged in to you.

Introductory Activity